Long Methodology Statement

Effective sample size after weighting applied: 1013
Margin of error associated with effective sample size: ± 3.1
Variables used in weighting Weighting method used: Age x gender x location, Age x education, Rim weighting
Full question text, responses categories and randomisation: See below
Proportion of landline/mobile completed interviews: Not applicable
Source of online sample: Selected from previously recruited online panels of research participants to fill quotas loosely based on weighting frame and past vote
Positioning of voting intention questions in questionnaire? Immediately after demographics
2PP calculation method: Calculated according to preferences flows at previous elections
How were undecided voters handled? Undecided respondents who answered "don't know" were asked a leaner question which also included a "don't know" option. Those who answered don't know were excluded from published voting intention figures but not from the survey. 8% were thus excluded from published voting intention figures.

C1. Last week the Albanese Government announced it would modify the tax cuts which the Morrison Government legislated, and which were due to come into effect in July this year.

The Government's changes will mean that people on lower and middle incomes will receive a larger tax cut than they would have under the original plan, and people on higher incomes will receive a smaller tax cut than they would have under the original plan.

Do you think you will be personally better off or worse off as a result of the Albanese Government's changes?

Please select one option only; Reverse 1-5

Much better off
A little better off
About the same
A little worse off
Much worse off
